TERMS AND CONDITIONS

This is a public and mail bid auction conducted by Classical Numismatic Auctions, a division of Classical Numismatic Group, Inc. Bidding in the auction constitutes acceptance of the following terms and conditions.

1. The property listed in this catalogue is offered for sale by CNA (the auctioneers) as agents for various owners and other consignors. We reserve the right to withdraw any lot before the close of the sale.
2. All lots are subject to a 10 % Buyer's fee on the hammer price.
3. All coins are guaranteed genuine and as described based on the most current information available to the cataloguer. Grading is a subjective art. Every effort has been made to be conservative in our grading. Please note that an auction sale is not an approval sale. Lots examined prior to the sale may not be returned for any reason except authenticity. Estimates given by the auctioneers are intended as a guide only and not as a statement of opinion of value.
4. Terms are for cash, with invoices being due and payable immediately upon receipt and the auctioneers reserve the right to charge interest on any overdue payment on invoices not settled within 30 days of the sale date. Payment by check must be made in either US ($) or British (£) funds and drawn on an United States or British bank. All successful bidders outside of North America and the United Kingdom will be charged an additional $15 fee for bank charges. Visa and Mastercard (Access) may be used to pay your bill, however, a 3.5% surcharge is made for the use of your credit card, our cost from the bank.
5. Bidders not known to us must provide us with satisfactory credit references and/or pay the full purchase price or a deposit as determined at the auctioneer's discretion before delivery of lots. Minors are forbidden from bidding without a parent's signature on the bid sheet.
6. Estimates are in U.S. dollars ($US) and please bid in even dollar ($) amounts. Mail Bidder Protection. You may submit bids with confidence. Where competition permits, your bids will be executed at 10% over the next highest bid. Please note, that most bids below estimate are rarely reduced, due to heavy competition. If you bid over estimate, chances are that your bids will be reduced. In the case of tie bids - the bid received earliest wins. Bid by lot number. No lots will be broken.
7. A word on Reserves. If a lot is reserved, it will not be in excess of the estimate. Check your bid sheets carefully. The seller cannot assume responsibility for errors made by bidders.
8. Buyers accepting commission bids from other parties do so at their own risk and will remain responsible to the auctioneers for full settlement per the terms of sale for this auction. Buyers shall not be entitled to remove lots from the auction room during the course of the auction without the prior permission of the auctioneer.
9. Sales Tax and postage and handling are added to all invoices where appropriate. Postage and handling for any book lots will be invoiced separately at the auctioneer's cost.
10. Prices Realised are published shortly after the sale and mailed to all bidders who have participated in the sale.
11. If you bid in this sale, you accept the terms as outlined above. Any legal disputes that might arise will be handled in the courts of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania.

GOOD LUCK and remember to mail your bid sheets early.
Bid sheets must be received by June 25, 1992.

This, of course, does not exclude the possibility of the coin type having served as model or inspiration for the statue."

Simonetta surmises that this crude issue was struck under emergency conditions during the revolt of Orophernes, and incidentally redates that revolt to 161-159 BC by interpreting the date as Γ, for year 3 (160/159 BC). However, on this specimen the date could just as easily be read S, or year 6, placing it in the traditional last year of the revolt.

Ariarathes IX was not of the Cappadocian dynasty, but the son of Mithradates VI of Pontus, who placed him on the throne. The last decade of his reign was spent in conflict with Ariobarzanes, the claimant for the throne supported by Rome. Ariarathes was expelled from Cappadocia in 89 BC and died two years later in Thessaly while campaigning for his father.

Adopting the title "Friend of the Romans" did not make Ariobarzanes' life any easier. Initially supported by the Romans as an alternative to Ariarathes IX and Mithradates, he spent the next 33 years hanging onto the throne by his fingertips. He was overthrown in 93, 92, 90, 82, 74 and 67 BC, each time restored by a Roman army.

Ex Leu 15, lot 355. The central pattern in the reverse, a knobbed shaft, resembles the club of Herakles. Perhaps an indication of a mint in Asia Minor? One of the last issues before the fall of the Achaemenid empire to Alexander.

Sellwood states: "A few rare drachms have complete mint-names on the reverse; they were struck towards the end of the reign and foreshadow the series of monograms so characteristic of smaller Arsacid coins up until the end of the dynasty three centuries later." This rare issue with complete mint-names is key to understanding the later monograms, and this lot and the following two represent an elusive opportunity for the Parthian specialist.

Κατακτηρατεια is not a mint name, but as Wroth suggests in BMC Parthia pg. 40, most likely indicates a field mint associated with a military expedition. This style of seated archer is attributed to Rhagae Court mint by Sellwood, and the effaced horse at the end of the torque may mark the re-use of dies by a detached workshop from that mint.

A most enigmatic coin. It could be a mule, confusing dies used by the moneyers who served in the same year, but the flat and sketchy head of Zeus and the peculiar horseman on the reverse do not represent the normal Roman mint style. Significantly, the horseman reverse was copied on AV staters of the Atrebatian king Tincommius (30-10 BC; Van Arsdell 375ff), and a multiple-tailed horse is seen on other Atrebatian gold, and thus the possibility is raised that this is a Celtic imitation of a Roman Republican denarius. A coin of interest to both Republican and Celtic collectors.

Claudia, born to Nero's second wife Poppaea on 21 January 63 AD, was immediately proclaimed Augusta. Tokens such as this were distributed to the Roman crowds in the ensuing celebrations, cut short by her death four months later. Nero was devastated, and declared her a goddess. Claudia was to be his only child. No imperial coins were struck with Claudia's portrait. At Poppaea's death in 65 AD (beaten to death by Nero), a provincial issue showed shrines to mother and daughter.

Extremely Rare Denarius of the Civil Wars

322. CIVIL WARS. 68-69 AD. AR Denarius (2.94 gm). CAESAR AVGVSTVS, laureate head right / DIVVS IVLIVS across flaming comet. RSC 98a; RIC I 92; BMC I 49var. Good VF. Extremely Rare, less than ten known. [See enlargement] ($3000)

Part of an extensive issue of denarii struck by the various factions contending for power after the death of Nero. Galba struck pieces before he declared as Emperor, the rebel Vindex in Gaul issued others, while forces in Germany and Africa may have been responsible for smaller outputs. The "Augustus" types, harkening back to the glorious early days of the empire, originated in Spain and Gaul. Although the great number of types indicates a sizable issue, all types are rare. Presumably most were withdrawn at the conclusion of the conflict.

Köln 184; Dattari 263; BMC 176-178; Curtis 113-119. VF, some light verdigris. Better reverse type. ($125)

This type probably commemorates Nero's visit to Greece in 66/67 AD and possibly implies that Nero planned to visit Egypt too, although we do not know this for sure. It is possible that the effects of the revolt in Judaea on the Jewish population in Alexandria and the subsequent period of unrest caused Nero to cancel any plans he may have had to visit Egypt.

495. Time of Nero? 54-68 AD. Æ Dichalkon (1.27 gm). Anepigraphic, head of Zeus right wearing taenia / I (or club) within wreath. Cf. Dattari 283 for reverse type but the Dattari coin has a bust of Nero on the obverse. VF, brown patina. Rare. ($100)

The fabric of this coin is similar to that of Alexandrian bronzes but there is not a published parallel for the obverse type of Zeus. Several examples are known of the Nero dichalkon (Dattari 283), and it may be possible that this coin was issued by one of the Delta cities such as Pelusium. The reverse type of an I (for iota) or a club has yet to have been adequately explained.

Two Rare Diobols of Commodus

511. Commodus. Year 24 (183/184 AD). Æ Diobol (9.50 gm). MAYPHKOMM ANTW[CEBEYCEB], laureate head right / Canopic jar (?) atop high-backed throne; to either side, [LK]-Δ. Cf. Dattari 3953 (Diobol of year 23) and Demetrio 2277 (tetradrachm of year 28). VF, brown patina. Extremely rare type. ($200)

Both parallels to this coin list the object on the throne as a modius, but in this cataloguer's opinion the object more closely resembles a canopus or canopic jar. The lid on the jar would normally (based on the typical iconography on Roman Egyptian coinage) be a head of Osiris or Isis but it is difficult to tell if this jar has such a lid. Likewise, a modius is usually shown with various grain-ears sticking out of its top and this example does not indicate any such representation. Perhaps a higher-grade example could solve the dilemma. In either case, both objects would be the subject of veneration and the image of either atop a throne is appropriate.

SWEDISH PLATE MONEY

Due to the total lack of native silver, Sweden used its vast deposits of copper ore to produce a bullion copper coinage - the famous Swedish Plate Money. Struck from 1644 to 1776 in denominations ranging from 1/2 to the rare 10 Daler, this unwieldy currency was actually used in circulation but more often just as a store of value.

By the 1770's plate money had been demonetized, and great quantities were being sold over-seas as copper bullion. The Danish merchant ship Nicobar was carrying a cargo of such bullion to India when it sank off the coast of South Africa on July 11, 1783. The wreck was discovered in 1987 and 3000 pieces of plate money were recovered. All the pieces were professionally cleaned and the metal stabilized, but two centuries of immersion in sea-water has left areas of corrosion, and in some cases significant metal loss, giving the collector an opportunity to acquire an inexpensive example of this fascinating coinage.
